This architect-designed villa, built for an artist and his family, stands on a plot of over 1600 m<sup>2</sup> and offers a beautiful living area of 300 m<sup>2</sup>.

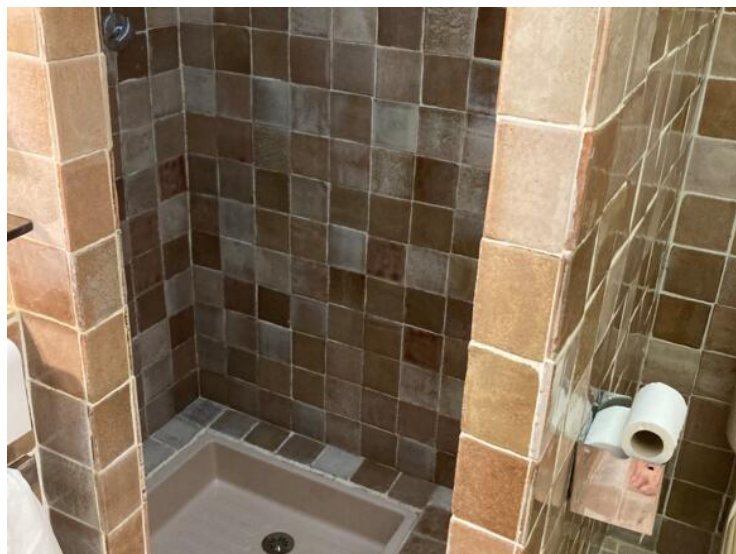

Its atypical architecture adapts perfectly to the environment, providing a magnificent view from every level. The entrance to the villa reveals a vast workshop space, divided into two parts and opening onto a terrace enhanced by a grotto. A reception area, spread over two levels, includes a dining room, a kitchen and a living room, extended by a terrace offering a panoramic view of Monaco and the sea. The night area consists of four bedrooms, two with mezzanine, two dressings, two bathrooms and two shower rooms.

Although requiring updating work, this property offers undeniable potential to become a true haven of peace.
